

1.1 Some Basic Mathematical Models; Directional Fields

Equations containing derivatives are differential equations.

A differential equation that describes some physical process is a mathematical model of the process.

Direction Fields are valuable tools in studying the solutions of differential equations of the form

$$\frac{dy}{dt} = f(t, y)$$

where f is a given function of the two variables t and y , sometimes called the rate function.